Dr. Frank Summers:
The American Psychology Association, the Military and the Involvement of Psychologists at Guantanamo Bay

Frank Summers, PhD, ABPP, is a supervising and training analyst at the Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis, an associate professor at Northwestern University Medical School, and a faculty member of several other psychoanalytic institutes. President of Psychoanalysts for Social Responsibility, he has written and spoken at both the national and local levels on the subject of psychologists' involvement in detention centers. He maintains a private practice of psychoanalysis and psychoanalytic psychotherapy in Chicago.

Larry Everest:
Why Would They Do That? Torture, New Legitimizing Norms, and the Need for Another Way

Larry is a correspondent for Revolution newspaper and the author of Oil, Power & Empire; Iraq and the US Global Agenda, which Daniel Ellsberg calls "remarkable, horrifying, brilliantly illuminating." He has covered the Middle East and Central Asia for over 25 years, reporting from Iran, Iraq, Palestine and India. He was an organizer of the 2005-2006 Commission of Inquiry into Crimes Against Humanity by the Bush Administration and is a contributor to Impeach the President- the Case Against Bush and Cheney.

Patricia A. Bronte:
Guantanamo v. the Rule of Law

Patricia is a partner of Jenner & Block LLP in Chicago and has traveled to Guantanamo Bay Naval Base ten times to meet with clients who are imprisoned there indefinitely. Ms. Bronte counsels and represents corporate clients in complex insurance coverage, reinsurance, and contract disputes. She has also represented individual clients on a pro bono basis in criminal, civil rights and housing cases. Ms. Bronte is a 1987 graduate of Northwestern University School of Law and a board member of the Chicago Council of Lawyers.
