

REVOLUTION AND RELIGION

The Fight for Emancipation and the Role of Religion

A DIALOGUE BETWEEN

& CORNEL WEST
BOB AVAKIAN

*Part of bringing in a new year
and a real future for humanity...*

REVOLUTION AND RELIGION

The Fight for Emancipation and the Role of Religion

A DIALOGUE BETWEEN

& CORNEL WEST
BOB AVAKIAN

*Part of bringing in a new year
and a real future for humanity...*

ON NOVEMBER 15, 2014, at the Riverside Church in NYC, 1,900 people witnessed a historic dialogue between Cornel West and Bob Avakian, infused with the fire and passion to bring an end to all forms of oppression. They cut to the bone on the outrages of today's world and the need for radical change.

It was a dialogue of transgression and convergence... a challenge to people to discard the mental traps and allures of this system... a stirring model of struggle and unity... a call to Stand Up and Act.

Make a contribution today for this Dialogue to be known about and seen throughout society.

Your contributions will go towards producing a quality film that will bring this Dialogue to people everywhere. In addition, the full video of this event is available for viewing online at revcom.us. Help fund a national publicity campaign to make this known right now.

This Dialogue took place days before a profound sea change with tens of thousands pouring out onto streets, bridges, tunnels, onto train tracks and freeways. People everywhere are asking what kind of society is this that would murder and criminalize our youth, what kind of system is this that denies millions of their humanity, what would it take to change this fundamentally, and what kind of world is possible.

Now more than ever, make the biggest contribution you can to getting this Dialogue everywhere.

Give online or send a check or money order to The Bob Avakian Institute or Revolution Books, NY (information on card enclosed).

ON NOVEMBER 15, 2014, at the Riverside Church in NYC, 1,900 people witnessed a historic dialogue between Cornel West and Bob Avakian, infused with the fire and passion to bring an end to all forms of oppression. They cut to the bone on the outrages of today's world and the need for radical change.

It was a dialogue of transgression and convergence... a challenge to people to discard the mental traps and allures of this system... a stirring model of struggle and unity... a call to Stand Up and Act.

Make a contribution today for this Dialogue to be known about and seen throughout society.

Your contributions will go towards producing a quality film that will bring this Dialogue to people everywhere. In addition, the full video of this event is available for viewing online at revcom.us. Help fund a national publicity campaign to make this known right now.

This Dialogue took place days before a profound sea change with tens of thousands pouring out onto streets, bridges, tunnels, onto train tracks and freeways. People everywhere are asking what kind of society is this that would murder and criminalize our youth, what kind of system is this that denies millions of their humanity, what would it take to change this fundamentally, and what kind of world is possible.

Now more than ever, make the biggest contribution you can to getting this Dialogue everywhere.

Give online or send a check or money order to The Bob Avakian Institute or Revolution Books, NY (information on card enclosed).